COOKIE POLICY

Our website (“site”) uses cookies to distinguish you from other users of our site. A cookie is a small file of letters and numbers that a website can store on the browser or hard drive of your computer

Some cookies are deleted when you close down your browser. These are known as “session cookies”. Others remain on your device until they expire or you delete them from your cache. These are known as “persistent cookies” and enable us to remember things about you as a returning visitor. For further information about how to control and disable cookies in your browser please visit: www.aboutcookies.org.uk. Alternatively, you can search the internet for other independent information on cookies.

Cookies may be required to allow you to access and participate in certain areas of our site. The cookies we store on your computer do not contain any personally identifiable information.

There are different types of cookies used for different purposes. The cookies our site uses are listed below under the cookie categories recommended by the International Chamber of Commerce.

1. STRICTLY NECESSARY COOKIES

These are cookies that are required for the operation of our site. They include, for example cookies that enable you to log into secure areas of our website or to fulfil an action requested by you when you are logged on. Without these cookies we are unable to provide some products or services that you might request. Other strictly necessary cookies keep our website secure. Even if you say no to cookies on this website, we will continue to use these essential cookies.

2. PERFORMANCE OR ANALYTICAL COOKIES

These cookies allow us to improve our website by recognising and counting the number of visitors to our site and to see how visitors move around our site while they are using it. These analytics will help us improve the way our website works, for example by letting us know how we need to adapt our site to ensure users can easily find what they are looking for.

If you disable these cookies you will still be able to use most of our online services, but some might not work as you expect if you do not allow us to store and access cookies on your device.

We use cookies in the following ways:

Cookie Name	Type	Purpose	More Information
rememberMe520	Strictly Necessary Cookies	This cookie remembers that a user on this particular browser has agreed to the Terms & Conditions upon entry of the website. This cookie is held for 28 days.
“_utma” “_utmb” “_utmc” “_utmz”	Performance / Analytical Cookie	These cookies are used to collect information about how visitors use our site. We use the information to compile reports and to help us improve the site. The cookies collect information in an anonymous form, including the number of visitors to the site, where visitors have come to the site from and the pages they visited.	Google’s Privacy Policy

3. MANAGING AND BLOCKING COOKIES

If you want to remove any cookies already set, you can do so from your browser. You can find out how to do this by going to the help menu in your browser or by visiting www.aboutcookies.org.uk or by searching the internet for other independent information on cookies.

You can also block cookies from your browser. However, if you use your browser settings to block all cookies (including essential cookies) you may not be able to access all or parts of our site.
